

Cyberwar - Free Thinkers

You are the chaos and the order

You are....the Free Thinkers!

Free thinker are people from the public who participate actively to the cyberwar games. Everyone can join the fight and help or work against countries trying to make their way to world domination. They're free and not part of any team. They can sell their services and informations in the auction house for team to buy them. Selling in the auction house is their way of making money. At the end of the game, the richest Freethinker win something fun ;)

Scoreboard

The center of the Cyberwar game is the scoreboard. As Free Thinker, this is where you can register and create auction for your..."special stuff". Please note: nothing prevent you from seeling your "hacking services" but you have to find a way to communicate with the teams on your own!

Access the scoreboard

scoreboard.hf (how simple is that!)

Create your account

Simply click on Register now in top of the window and enter the required informations.

2034: World at War

Register now to get a freethinker account or login:

Create auction

To add an auction so teams can bid on it, click on Create auction in the menu on the top of your window.

- Item : The flag/informations you are offering. Only the team who will win the auction will see it.
- Description : Describe what you are selling
- Starting bid : Minimum 1, maximum 400. The minimum value you want for your information.

IMPORTANT: Item and description have a 400 (after html encoding) chars max length.

Add new item to auction

 This is a flag

For security reason please confirm your password.

Enter your password and click on Add item. As soon as the auction end, you'll see the money added to your bank account.

Restriction:

At any time during the game, it is prohibited to attack infrastructures that are used for the game such as the scoreboard. A player caught trying to hacks those system will automatically cause disqualification and expulsion of her and his team.