

Cyberwar - How-to - Teams

The center of the Cyberwar game is the scoreboard. It's on these pages that you can see how your team perform, submit flags, bid in auctions and launch attack. Below you have dumb-proof explanation about how to use the scoreboard system.

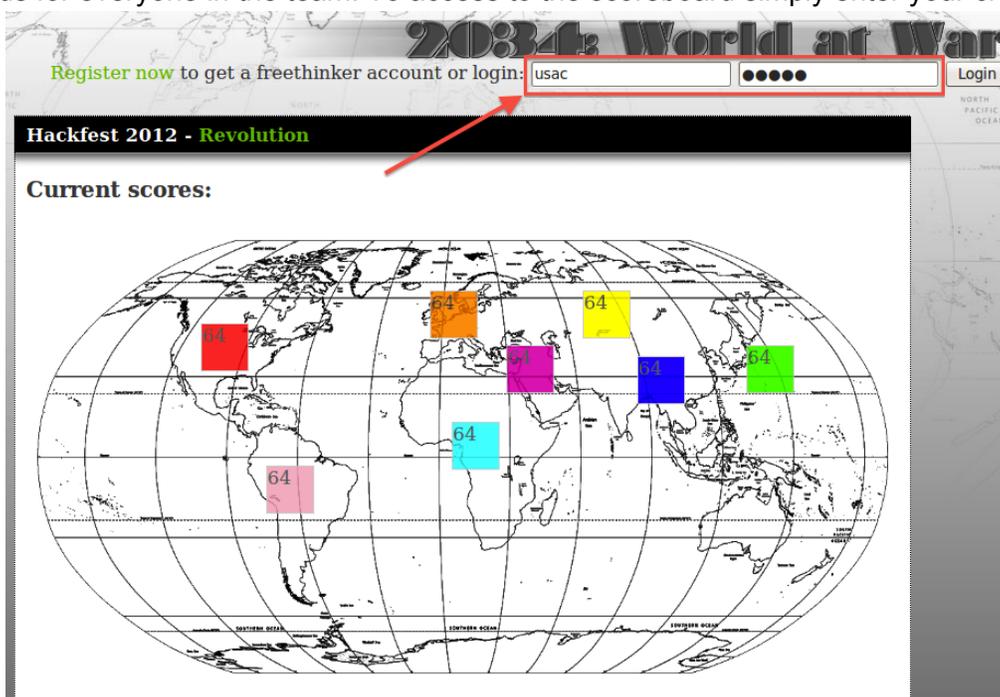

Note : Be aware! There is some part only team leader can use.

Access the scoreboard

scoreboard.hf (how simple is that!)

Login (Team leader / Team member)

Each team will have a brown envelope on their table. In the envelope you will find login/ passwords for everyone in the team. To access to the scoreboard simply enter your credentials.

Submit flag (Team leader / Team member)

Flag can have two purpose: Get money or acquire territory.

To submit a flag, click on Submit flag in the menu.

The screenshot shows a web interface titled "Hackfest 2012 - Revolution". Inside, there is a "Submit flag" form. The form has a text input field containing the flag "FLAG-AOA2VXT-ABJJH7QH6NCPX", a "Submit" button, and a password confirmation section. The password confirmation section is enclosed in a red dashed box and contains the text "For security reason please confirm your password." followed by a password input field with five dots.

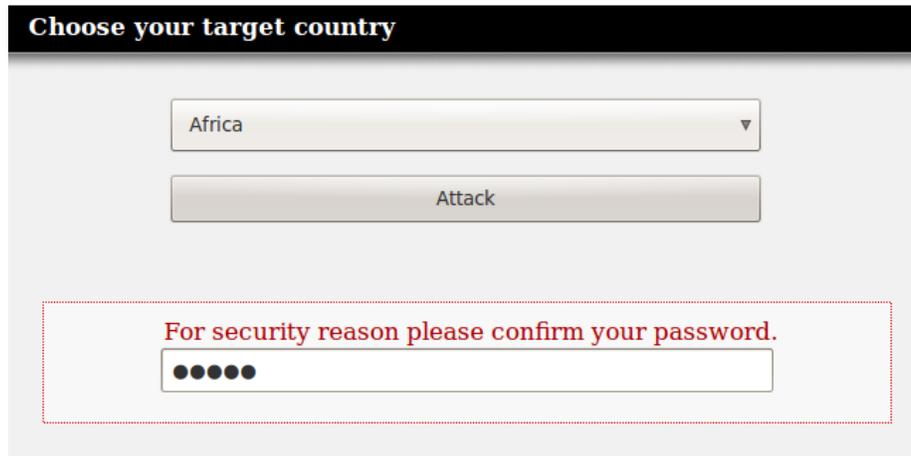

Simply enter the flag you've found, enter your password and click submit. If you see the window below, it's done!

IMPORTANT: Please note that you will not get any output telling you if your flag was a money or territory flag. In order to get this information simply watch your team bank account. If you got a deposit, the flag was a money flag. Each territory flags will give you the chance to attack the team on whom infrastructure the flag was found.

Launch an attack (Team leader Only)

To launch an attack against a country, click on Launch an attack in the menu.

Choose your target country

Note : drop bar can be empty if you haven't acquire any territory flag, also note that if you have 2 territory flags against a target, that target will NOT appear twice in the list

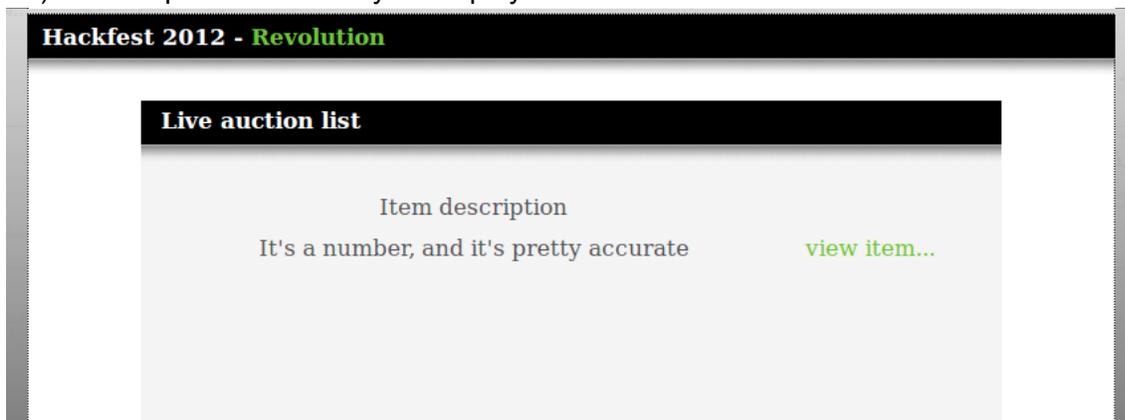

Select the country you want to attack, enter your password and click Attack. If the attack is successful, you'll see the scoreboard main page reflect the newly acquired territory.

See the auction(Team leader / Team member(parts only))

In order to buy informations from Free Thinkers, teams have access to an Auction house.

To access, click on See the auction in the menu. You'll see a list of the current offer from the Free Thinker community. You can click on View item... to have more info on the auction : Free Thinker name, Auction End, Current winner and current bid price. Please keep in mind that items sold on the Auction House are not moderated (flags will be validated if free thinker asked for) and are put on auction by other players.
